THE END WAS SUDDEN JAILER LOCKED UP

Archbishop Corrigan Died Last Night in New York.

He Had Been Ill for Quite Awhile but the End Did Not Seem So Near.

THE END WAS VERY PEACEFUL

New York, May 6—Archbishop Corrigan died at 11:05 o'clock last night.

The death of the archbishop came as a great surprise and shock. Up to 10:30 there was no evidence of collapse, in fact, the archbishop at 10:40 talked with his secretary.

At 11 o'clock, however, the trained nurses who had charge at the bedside noticed a change and the doctors were telephoned for. At the same time the archbishop's two brothers were summoned to the room as well as a number of priests. It was quickly seen by the physicians that the end was at hand and in less than a quarter of an hour his grace was dead. His last moments were peaceful and without evidence of suffering.

Dr. Keyes was unable to reach the house until ten minutes before midnight. He said that death had doubtless been caused by degeneration of the heart and weakness resulting from the archbishop's illness. The illness really dated from the end of February of this year, when, in going through the Kelly Memorial Chapel in course of construction at the rear of the cathedral, he fell between some beams and to keep himself from falling to the floor below he had to hold himself up by the arm pits. The strain was very great and before he recovered from the effects of the accident he was attacked with pneumonia.

The Most Rev. Michael Augustine Corrigan, D.D., was born in Newark, N. J., in 1840. His parents came from Leinster, Ireland. After having graduated from the schools of his native place, he was sent to St. Mary's College in Emmettsburg, Md. After leaving St. Mary's in 1859, having made a brilliant record as a student, he went to Europe to take holy orders. In Rome he was one of the thirteen students who registered in the American college there when it was opened. After he had devoted two years to the preliminary studies of the college and then began the study of theology. Although ordained a priest by Cardinal Patrizi in the Lateran Basilica in 1863 he remained in the American college another year and won the degree of doctor of divinity. Dr. Corrigan then sailed for home and reported on his arrival to Bishop Bayley in Newark, who at once assigned him to the professorship of dogmatic theology and sacred scripture, as well as to the directorship of Seton Hall college.

Later the Rev. Father Corrigan became vice president of the college and when only 28 years of age became president of that institution. When Bishop Bayley visited Rome in 1870 Dr. Corrigan became the administrator and vicar general of Newark.

He was consecrated bishop by Cardinal McCloskey on May 4, 1873, and remained in charge of the diocese of Newark for seven years. In that time he has consecrated forty two new churches, among them the cathedral at Newark. Besides these achievements he established many religious communities and founded a home for erring women and a reformatory for boys.

Headless Body of a Woman Found Near Turner's Landing.

Body of a Rouser also Found Below the Pittsburg Wreck Yesterday.

The remains of two more of the Pittsburg's victims were found yesterday. A man who was fishing near Turner's Landing found the trunk of a woman. The head and legs had been burned off, and there was not even a shred of clothing by which the body might be identified.

Near Mound City the body of one of the negro rousers was also found, and it was reported the body of a girl was caught, but not identified.

Mr. R. C. Benner of the city, who had for a week past been searching for the remains of Messrs. Hunter and Magill of Tideoute, Pa., returned on the Fowler last night, no trace having been found of either.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George Saunders returned to the city at noon today, after a visit to Mayfield. He has been ill since Saturday, and was forced to remain in Mayfield.

SAM JONES COMING THE QUEEN SELECTED

Rev. J. C. Reid Will Write Him to Hold a Meeting in Paducah Soon

Ministerial Association Did not Act on the Sparring Exhibition Matter.

MAYOR SAID IT COULD NOT TAKE PLACE

Miss Anna Boswell Will Grace the Paducah Carnival as the Queen.

The Contest Closed Last Night—Float Will Soon be Ready for the Parade.

OTHER LATE NOTES OF THE CARNIVAL

There was a called meeting of the Ministerial Association this morning for the purpose of acting on the proposed sparring exhibition at the Kentucky theater tonight. A committee that had been appointed to examine into the law reported that there was no necessity for any action being taken as Mayor Yeiser had promised that the exhibition should not take place.

The association then took up and discussed the matter of having Sam Jones come here and hold a meeting. It was decided to bring him here if possible and Rev. J. C. Reid, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, was appointed to write Rev. Jones at once and see what time this summer he can come to Paducah and hold a meeting.

Rev. Jones once held a revival here, but it was eight or ten years ago. It is thought that there will be little or no difficulty in inducing him to come.

GIRL ASSAULTED

A Little Orphan Girl who was Seeking Relatives Badly Mistreated.

A Strange White Man Assaulted Her But Fortunately Escaped.

The story of an attempted assault on a small girl only ten years old was given out this morning.

Safeway Ross Wormstead, of Golconda, who had been residing with her grandmother in Golconda, came to the city to live with the family of Mr. Ed Butler, of Rowlandtown, another relative. The child is an orphan and came alone. She got mixed and went out on the Hinkleville road thinking that she was going to the residence of Mr. Butler. She arrived at the house of Mr. James B. Harper, of the I. C. shops, and inquired the way to the home of her relative which was given her. As she left the house a strange white man went up to her and said that he would show her the way and when he had gotten her out into the woods assaulted her.

She tore away from him and ran back to Mr. Harper's house telling Mrs. Harper of the occurrence. There was a telephone near at hand but the people were away from home and Mrs. Harper was unable to telephone the officers and the man made good his escape. This happened at about noon Saturday and the little girl was kept at the latter residence until the return of Mr. Harper who took her home.

FAN BURNED.

BUT FORTUNATELY THERE WAS LITTLE DAMAGE DONE AT COUNCILMAN FOWLER'S.

Yesterday afternoon Councilman Joe Fowler had a fan connected up at his residence on Court street near Sixth. Last night during the thunder storm the "fuse" popped out like a pistol shot, and the fan caught fire and was destroyed. The lace curtains had a close call, but the fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

SENSATIONAL RISE.

ELLEN N. STOCK TODAY WENT TO 142, AND IT IS HARD TO GET.

New York, May 6—L. and N. stock closed at 139 yesterday, and this morning rose to 139 3-4, then gradually went up until it reached 142. Yesterday all local holders of L. and N. stock who were willing to dispose of it let it go at 135. It is said that today, even in the face of a steady rise there has not been a single share sent to the brokers for sale. Monon opened at 74 1-4 and rose to 78, finally dropping to 77 1-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKinney, Miss Mabel Weeks and Miss Harriett Wilson returned to the city at noon today, after a visit in Hickman, Ky.

COUNCILMANIC BOARD

Regular Meeting Last Night Lasted Until After Mid-night.

A Number of Ordinances Passed—Street Sprinkling Ordinance was Deferred.

IMPORTANT MATTERS DISCUSSED

The board of councilmen met last night in regular session with all present except Councilman Jackson.

Mayor Yeiser, to whom the matter had been referred, presented the unsigned contracts of street work to E. C. Terrell. There was a lively wrangle. Attorney Worten was asked his opinion at the last regular meeting and presented same verbally. Councilman Fowler instructed him to draw up the same in writing which he did. There seemed to be some little uncertainty as to whether the work on the contracts had been commenced and the matter was finally referred to a committee for investigation.

A communication from the News-Democrat Co. relative to certified copies of city documents and other public printing was read and referred to a committee.

The resignation of City Engineer James Wilcox was presented and accepted.

The bonds of the city treasurer and his depository were presented and accepted.

In the matter of the judgment against the city in the Allen case in which he was awarded a judgment for $1,500, the mayor's proposition to pay half in 60 days and half in 90 was ratified.

A motion was adopted requesting a flagman at the Eighth street crossing of the N. C. and St. L. railroad.

A condensed statement of the city bills was presented along with the regular salaries of the council, police and other officers, amounting to a total of $6,984.49, which were allowed.

It was moved to allow each councilman $8 per night for every meeting night, whether regular or called, by the advice of City Attorney Worten.

Councilman Potter did not think it right and refused to accept his "over-pay" as he considered it, and also did Councilman Reed, when the motion was adopted.

The settlement with the former city treasurer was made and he was granted his quietus. Clerk Patterson and Auditor Kirkland reported that they had examined the conditions of the affairs of the city treasurer and reported the same in the best of condition. In accordance with this he was granted his quietus as above stated.

Back taxes to the amount of $207.58 were reported collected by Clerk Patterson and the usual order made.

The ordinance governing the city treasurer's depository was given final passage.

The ordinance relative to the fire and police commissioners was also given final passage.

The street sprinkling ordinance was introduced and provides that from May 1 to October 30, the following thoroughfares be sprinkled three times during the forenoon and three times during the afternoon under supervision of the street inspector and at the cost of abutting property owners against whom the city engineer shall each month make estimates apportioning the cost: Seventh, from Madison to Court; Third, from Monroe to Elizabeth; Broadway, from First to Seventeenth street; Jefferson from First to Twelfth; Eighth from Madison to Jefferson; Clark, from Second to Sixth; Monroe, from Second to Seventh; Madison, from Third to Ninth; Court, from First to Ninth; Washington, from First to Sixth; Second, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth, from Clark to Madison; Ninth, from Madison to Broadway.

An ordinance for the improvement of Jefferson street from Nineteenth street to the city limits was read and referred to the street committee for investigation.

The regular saloon, wholesale liquor and beer licenses, 72 in number, were allowed and the saloon license to Bulger and Lender refused.

A. J. Wintersmith was refused a coffee house license at Seventh and Adams street and W. H. Lott was also refused one a little further up the street at 432 South Seventh street.

Phil Stephon was granted a license to sell liquor at 825 Washington street.

H. E. Whitesides was refused a license at Ninth and Court streets.

The fire chief's report was received and filed and a report from Alderman C. Q. C. Leigh referred to the fire committee.

A report from Chief Woods relative to dangerous buildings was received and filed.

The report of the sewerage inspector was received and filed.

Several lots in the cemetery were ordered deeded over to rightful owners the titles having been in some way become slightly mixed.

The telephone company which was recently raised $40,000 in taxes reported that it was taking an invoice and wanted a committee appointed to investigate and wanted the tax lowered.

Captain Bailey's report was received and filed.

A telephone was ordered again placed in the city scale office.

A resolution presented by Councilman Potter relating to the city printing was laid on the table.

A special committee appointed to look into the matter of female labor at the Cohankus Mfg. Co. reported that the women and girls were being worked too long but as the council thought it did not have authority to pass any law to govern this, a state law now existing that will remedy the defect, the matter was not acted upon.

A motion that a special committee and the mayor be appointed to buy 2500 feet of hose was adopted.

By resolution council ordered that from now henceforth no city employee would be advanced vouchers upon his pay check to liquidate bills for debts.

A motion was made by Councilman Woolfolk to have only one meeting every month but was lost.

INDIANA TICKET.

BUT UNION LABOR IS NOT SUPPORTING THE LABOR TICKET.

Hammond, Ind., May 6—Labor men are much interested in the election for mayor in progress here today. A labor ticket is in the field, but an odd feature of the contest is that union labor is not supporting it. A. F. Knotts, lawyer for the union men in the recent fight against the plant of the W. B. Conkey Publishing company, is the Republican candidate and appears to have the following of union labor. Mayor Reilly, the present incumbent, known as "Honest Pat," heads the Democratic ticket.

Upon the result of the election depends the course to be taken by the union printers and pressmen in a proposed renewal of the fight against the Conkey company.

GOLF LAWS.

THERE MAY BE SOME CHANGES MADE IN THEM TONIGHT.

New York, May 6—There is much speculation regarding the special meeting of the United States Golf Association at Delmonico's this evening. The stated object is to discuss the changes in the by-laws recently made by the "executive committee and for ratifying, changing or amending the same, as the meeting may decide." Many prominent players are opposed to all changes and think they ought to be voted down. The calling of the meeting has served to revive the old charges that the executive committee seeks to dominate the game. The changes in the amateur championship and the pairing for the first match play round on the score basis are the rulings to which the most objection is made.

WITH THE MAGAZINES.

The May number of Lippincott's Magazine contains a complete society novel, five short stories, five brief pointed papers on subjects of present interest, some talk about books, many pages of bright, fresh "Walnuts and Wine," and plenty of seasonable verse. All of which are well worth reading. The month's novel is a story of New York's smartest society, and covers a period of two weeks in the gayest season. It is entitled "A Mock Caliph," and is by Edith Robins.

Everybody's Magazine for May contains an especially readable article on "The Napoleon of South Africa.

A Study of the Man—Cecil John Rhodes and His Work," by T. P. Connor.

This many-sided, complex man is shown in the best and worst lights, and it makes interesting reading. "A Touch Down" is one of the delightful "Nancy Stories" by Eleanor Hoyt, and this charming, frivolous young woman fairly scintillates with sense and nonsense. All the articles are well illustrated.

The features of the May McClure's are Miss Ellen M. Stone's own account of "Six Months Among the Brigands," and "Prince Henry's American Impressions," as given by Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who was in personal attendance on the Prince.

Both of these are sufficient to mark the magazine as above the average interest and rather overshadow the other matter, excellent though it be. George Madden Martin has another "Emmy Lou" story, and takes our lovable little friend into the deep waters of politics. "Sarah Siddons' Tryst" is a dramatic story by Clara Morris.

BAPTIST MEETING

The Convention to be one of the Largest Ever Held—Other Delegates Leave.

Mr. Will Ed Covington and wife and Mrs. Charles Emery left this morning over the N. C. and St. L. for Asheville, North Carolina, to attend the Southern Baptist convention. They were joined at Murray by Mr. Barber McElrath and wife. Tomorrow morning Rev. G. W. Perryman and wife, Mr. J. R. Puryear and wife, and other delegates from Paducah, will leave.

This will be the 47th annual convention of Southern Baptists, and it lasts from May 9 to the 13.

The annual sermon will be preached by the Rev. F. C. McConnell, of Georgia, or his alternate, the Rev. Curtis Lee Laws, of Maryland. The Woman's Missionary Union will be held at the same time, with Miss Annie W. Armstrong, of Baltimore, Md., presiding.

Previous to these meetings there will be held the Baptist Young People's Union of the South, and the American Baptist Educational Society beginning Thursday, May 9.

The trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary will meet tomorrow.

The present officers of the convention are expected to continue unless ex-Governor Northern, of Georgia, declines to accept the presidency, which he has said he would do. There are many names suggested for the place, but it is very likely that ex-Governor Eagle, of Arkansas, will succeed him.

Drs. Lansing Burrows, Nashville, and O. F. Gregory, of Baltimore, are the secretaries. Mr. George W. Norton and Dr. W. P. Harvey, both of Louisville, are treasurer and auditor respectively.

The reports of the various mission boards will be the main features of the convention. Since the meeting of the last convention in New Orleans one of the best known men among Southern Baptists has died. Dr. F. H. Kerfoot, who was corresponding secretary for the Home Mission Board, and is succeeded by Dr. F. C. McConnell, who is pushing the work.

IN GRAFF'S DISTRICT.

Peoria, Ill., May 6.—The Republican congressional convention of the new sixteenth district is in session here today with an attendance of 124 delegates, and many visitors. All indications point to the re-nomination of Congressman Joseph V. Graff of this city.

DOCTORS MEET

This Evening the Advance Guards Will Arrive.

About 400 Delegates are Expected to Arrive by Tomorrow.

Tomorrow the state Medical Society will meet in annual convention and somewhere near 400 doctors are expected to be in attendance.

Drs. J. M. McCormick and W. W. Richmond, the former of Bowling Green, the secretary of the state board of health, and the latter of Clinton, are expected in the city this afternoon.

A preliminary meeting will be held here this afternoon for the purpose of discussing the proposed new constitution and by-laws for the state society and also other matters of importance to the society. The majority of the delegates will arrive on the night trains but will come in on all trains and at all times during the session. The greater portion are expected tonight, however, to attend the opening of the convention tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

The local doctors think that this will be the largest and most successful meeting ever held and are making great preparations for the event.

GOES TO EUROPE.

COUNTESS CASSINI LEAVES NEW YORK FOR A TRIP ABROAD.

New York, May 6.—Among the passengers sailing for Europe today was the Countess Cassini, adopted daughter of the Russian ambassador at Washington. The countess will spend the early summer in Paris and will be joined by her father some time in July. The Cassinis lease a handsome apartment on Boulevard St. Germain, and the Countess spends at least three months each year at the French capital. With the ambassador she will return to America in November.

MUCH TOBACCO.

THE LOADS COMING IN RAPIDLY AT PRESENT.

While the rush is not so great as it was earlier in the season, scores of loads of tobacco are brought into the city every day, and one house is so full that 124 loads had to be shipped direct from the depot, where it was unloaded from the farmers' wagons onto cars.

Tobacco men say that the weed will continue to come in until August.

See Janes' column for farm loan terms.

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

PADUCAH PEOPLE ARE REQUESTED TO HONESTLY ANSWER THIS.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of Paducah more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

Mr. W. C. Overstreet of 913 Trimble street, employed at P. F. Lally and Co.'s meat market, corner of Tenth and Trimble streets, says: "When a man has been refused a policy by two different insurance companies owing to kidney complaint, when his back ached continually, not only when stooped but even when he sat or reclined perfectly still, when he was weak, restless and annoyed with the kidney secretions, he naturally emphatically endorses the means employed to change his physical condition. Reading one day about Doan's Kidney Pills curing some one in a neighboring town induced me to call at Du Bois and Co.'s drug store for a box. In less than a week I was so much benefited that I continued their use, and told my friends and acquaintances what unexpected results I was receiving. I don't know if I am radically cured of kidney complaint or not. I don't know if I ever will be, but there is one thing of which I am certain, at the present time I have not a symptom of my old trouble. I can be found any day at P. F. Lally's old stand, at the corner of Tenth and Trimble streets, and you are welcome to send anyone to me for a corroboration of the above."

BADLY HURT.

RAILROAD MAN RUN OVER AND SEVERAL TOES CUT OFF.

Ed Orange, colored, an employee of the Illinois Central, was injured near Covington, Tenn., last night while attempting to catch a freight train at Blank switch.

He grabbed at the handle of one of the cars and caught but his foot did not strike the step and he was thrown on the track, one wheel passing over the side of the member and cutting off a toe besides mangling the foot badly. Dr. Davis, of the Illinois Central hospital, dressed the injury this morning, the patient having been brought here last night. Two toes will have to be amputated as a result of the accident but Orange will suffer no greater injuries than these.

BASEBALL PARK.

THE PROMOTERS ARE MEETING WITH ENCOURAGEMENT.

The promoters of the proposed baseball park are still at work and hope to soon have matters brought to head in regard to the park question.

It is understood that the railroad gun club and associates will guarantee at least $500 worth of stock in the company to establish a park at their grounds for all classes of sports and this, with the subscriptions of others who have agreed to go into the company, will be sufficient to build the park, grandstand and all. The promoters have been somewhat disheartened lately over subscriptions but the offer of the railroad people has put new life into their efforts and they will work until their end is realized.

PROMPT ACTION NEEDED.

The council should pass an ordinance prohibiting the hogs from overrunning the Town Cow's territory. The Cow has carefully explored the city, and discovered the best feeding grounds, and to allow the hogs to step in at this late day and deprive her of them is rank injustice. The cow has learned the combinations to the gates that lead into the greenest and most luxuriant yards, and is entitled to enjoy exclusively the advantages it affords her. The hog is not so particular in his diet, and really does not need the botanical delicacies, and he roots up the yards so no other grass springs up, thus forcing the cow to suffer a great wrong. The hog should be given one section of the city and the cow the other, and this arrangement is not believed to be one that will interfere with the rights of the dogs, who are privileged characters, and can remain delegates in the city at large. The billy-goats find all they want in Mechanicsburg, and we do not at present fear an invasion of them, as the crop of tin cans in the alleys and gutters, while large, is not quite large enough to tempt them yet. These few remarks are made in behalf of the Town Cow because reports of hogs have been coming in for the past several days, and it is feared she will be put to great trouble, and probably forced to face starvation, if the ruthless hog is not squelched now. We appeal to Councilman Potter to turn loose the floods of oratory and save the patient, God-given cow from an ignominious fate.

Some of that silly sentiment that has been responsible for the persecution of American officers in the Philippines might prompt a few expressions of sympathy for the American naval officers who were thrown into prison in Venice for a difficulty that was provoked by a lot of saloon bums. The American officers were thrown into a filthy cell and deprived of all their clothing but coats, made to eat with their fingers and not permitted to bathe or shave. They were allowed to see no one until about four hours had been consumed in red tape argument, and after three days thus spent they were taken out and tried and sentenced to three months each. The saloon bums sued them for damages for injuries, although the result was no worse in any case than a few black eyes, and then, to show their true motive, agreed to compromise for a comparatively small sum. The government, fearing the indignation of the United States over such outrageous treatment of her sailors, pardoned the men, and the officers were released, after it had cost them a great deal of suffering, humiliation and considerable money. The whole affair was caused by the accidental turning over of a table, which provoked insulting remarks from the bums, who got as good as they sent. When the police refused to arrest the Americans, the crowd, which far outnumbered them, attacked them, and carried them to the lock-up. The papers that have been whining over the treatment of the Filipino traitors have had little to say of the treatment of our own soldiers.

The city council continues to ignore the law. It is true that everybody is not a lawyer, and that there may be few attorneys so able and well versed in legal lore as the city attorney. Yet it doesn't require an expert lawyer to see that the payment of $3 a meeting to councilmen for called sessions is illegal, and an imposition on the taxpayers, who are already taxed a great deal for very few apparent benefits. The members of council were elected last fall for two years, and their compensation was fixed by law at $3 for each regular meeting, no more and no less. The law says plainly that the compensation of no officer can be changed during his term of office, yet the councilmen have voted to increase their own compensation by collecting $3 for every called meeting, as well as every regular meeting. This is not only illegal, but it looks bad for the members of the council. The violation of law is too plain, and the worst part of it is that the councilmen have sanctioned it by their own vote, for their own exclusive benefit.

It might have been expected that the council would defer the street sprinkling ordinance. It usually postpones action on every matter involving public accommodations and improvements, or else acts adversely on them. It ought to be apparent that street sprinkling is needed, and that all public-spirited citizens want it. It seems that Paducah is about the hardest city in the United States to adopt public improvements of any kind. It is utterly impossible to get the office-holders out of the rut they have been moving in for the past quarter of a century.

The police have wisely begun early to rid the city of grafters, sneak thieves and pick-pockets. The light-fingered gentry are now anxiously awaiting next week, when the carnival opens, and it is reported some of them are already here. The more of them disposed of now, when they can easily be spotted, the less there will be to contend with next week, when the crowds will be so large that they will be hard to ferret out, and still harder to arrest. The city can afford to take care of them under the clock for a few days.

Mr. James Herring and wife of Perryville, Tenn., will visit relatives in Paducah during the carnival.

TWO HURT

Runaway Horses Near Fifth and Jefferson Caused Excitement.

Messrs Lloyd Robertson and W. L. Wilkerson Both Painfully Hurt in Accident.

There was a runaway last night about 8 o'clock on South Fifth streets in which two men were hurt but neither seriously.

Mr. Lloyd Robertson, the well known insurance man, was driving out of Clark street turning into Fifth when one of the front wheels of his buggy came off and threw him out. The axle striking the horse frightened him and caused him to run away. The animal proceeded down Fifth street and passed Broadway at a rapid pace. At Fifth and Jefferson streets the buggy struck that of Mr. W. L. Wilkerson, of the Palmer Transfer Co., and caused his horse to rear and pitch throwing him out and bruising him considerably. Mr. Robertson suffered a sprained knee and severe bruises about the body. Neither gentlemen are seriously injured but both had a narrow escape.

Mr. Robertson will probably be out this afternoon on crutches. Both horses were stopped a short distance from the corner where the collision occurred, with little damage except to the buggies.

THE MAKING OF A BILLIARD BALL

Care and Time Required to Produce the White Spheres.

It takes more than a year to make a billiard ball! Few devotees of the game probably are aware of the infinite pains that have to be expended on this important part of the equipment that contributes to their entertainment.

Billiard balls are made from elephants' tusks, and only the small tusks, from four to six inches in diameter, will do, for these furnish the best ivory. The price of this ivory has greatly increased of late, and the demand is far in excess of the supply. This stringency in the market has induced a prominent billiard company to offer $10,000 for a perfect substitute for ivory.

The elephants' tusks come to the factories cut up in sections, each having been cut just large enough to allow of the turning of a single ball. Only skilled labor is employed to work upon it. The exact center of the piece must first be discovered by measurement. It is then placed in a socket, and one-half of the ball is turned by a sharp-edged steel instrument. The ivory is then hung up in a net for a time. Later the second half is turned, and the ball again hung up as before, in a room where the temperature is from 60 to 70 degrees.

The ball must be kept thus suspended for about a year, when it is rubbed and polished so as to near a certain weight as possible, and to a diameter of two and three-eighths inches. Even with the greatest care it is impossible to make two balls of exactly the same weight.

The life of a billiard ball after it is placed in use is an uncertain quantity.

If the room in which it is kept is too hot the pores of the ivory may close, and a crack ensues. Then it has to be returned to the factory, where it is shaved off and consequently reduced in size. A second-rate billiard room gets it next. By and by it develops another crack, and again goes back to the factory, where this time it is probably fixed up for a cue ball in pool. When it has reached its last limit of usefulness as a ball it is bought by dealers in bone and ivory and turned into buttons.

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF OKLAHOMA

In That Territory the Rich Soil Is Attracting Thousands of Settlers.

That portion of the west comprised in Oklahoma and Indian Territory is the center of interest for the ever-present emigration movement that marks American civilization. The states to the north and south have been drained of their surplus population for a decade to build up these virgin lands, but the process is not complete.

The land offices of Oklahoma, outside of the newly opened reservations, have done during the last summer, the largest business in history.

Western Oklahoma lands that were considered fit only for the herder are being taken for small ranches, and the cattlemen are nervously watching the destruction of their barbed-wire fences by the advent of the man with the plow. Indeed, this is the only portion of western land outside the irrigated areas that can be secured for new settlement. While vast tracts are yet open to homesteading in other parts of the west, they are the refuse, the arid, rough or worthless claims undesired by the settlers of the last three decades.

Little wonder, then, that the virgin lands of the Indian Territory, capable of producing a bushel and a half of cotton, seventy bushels of corn or forty-five bushels of wheat per acre, should be in demand; or that Oklahoma farms, with almost equal fertility, and which are to be subdivided and rearranged to suit the development of the country and the increasing population, should attract both settlers and investors.

Peopled to a larger extent than almost any other part of the union by native American stock, says a writer in the Review of Reviews, with the advantages of example in the organization and development of other communities, guided by the knowledge of to-day and following modern business methods, there should be a marvelous future for this region.

SOCIALISTS IN GERMANY.

Germany is the birthplace of socialism, and it has attained a higher development there than anywhere else. In 1877 the Socialists cast 493,000 votes at the Reichstag elections, as against the Center's 1,341,000, and against the National Liberal's 1,468,000. In 1878 and 1879, owing to Bismarck's repressive measures, the Socialist vote dropped to 312,000. But from that time until the last general election, that of 1898, the Socialist vote rose steadily. The Socialists to-day are, in point of numbers, by far the largest party, and at the next general election they will reach the 2,500,000 mark, and possibly exceed it.—North American Review.

The Great Spring Health Giver Makes Sick People Well

A Prominent Clergyman Tells How He Escaped From His Deadly Perils.

When spring comes with its gentle showers, its balmy air, its bright sunshine and bursting buds, it too often brings to our homes scenes of suffering and physical decay.

The seeds of disease which were imperceptibly germinating during the winter months have developed and planted in the system dangers that now call for our instant care and attention. Neglect and procrastination will only deepen existing perils and lead to death.

Before the advent of spring, you must have noted symptoms, perhaps of indigestion, dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney disease, liver complaint, functional irregularities or nervous disorders.

Take warning sufferers! The symptoms you experience are signals of disease. Delay not another day; hesitation and indecision on your part may forever seal your fate. If you have already made efforts to banish your troubles by the use of other medicines and the treatment of physicians, and these have failed, we counsel you to put full trust in that great disease banisher, Paine's Celery Compound. Its use for a week or two will convince you that you have truly commenced a new existence. Rev. W. E. Aldridge, a leading and prominent clergyman of Birmingham, Ala., says:

"I had been afflicted for ten years with what I thought to be heart disease, but after having the physicians examine me, I learned that I was almost dead from indigestion. They told me they could give me medicine that would relieve me, but there was no permanent cure. Then I began using Paine's Celery Compound, which gave me immediate relief, and I am now well and enjoying good health. I can recommend Paine's Celery Compound to be the best medicine for all ailments; if people will use the Compound freely, they will have no doctors' bills to pay."

SUN'S DAILY STORY

HUSSARS OF DEATH.

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

Music and liquor! The Major loved them both; was something of a connoisseur in both; and was keenly susceptible to the influence of both. So, when he actually resolved to adopt a small colored boy, his friends were outraged, but not surprised; they only felt unable to decide whether the proceeding was to be attributed to the Major's pocketflask or to the boy's banjo, while the Major cursed the whole neighborhood in good, set terms, and went after his protege.

"What's the boy's name?" he demanded when all other particulars had been settled to the mutual satisfaction of himself and the child's father.

"Well, Majah," was the somewhat astonishing response, "I don't know 'zactly now."

The Major's temper uncertain, and his vocabulary ready.

"Then you're a darn fool," he replied with promptness and irritation.

"Well, Majah, you see, 'twuz 'is way. W'en dat chile wuz bawn, me 'n M'r'lowed we wuz gwine to call him to you; an' we wuz gwine to hab a great big crussein', soon's it got so's he wud war a frock 'dout enny naik er sleeves, dat yo' ma gin him. But wile we wuz a-waitin', M'r'lowe, she up an' jine de Baptis', an' one day, w'en I sez, 'M'r'lowe, ain't it mos' warm 'nu'f to de crussein'? M'r'lowe, she say, sorter short-lak, dat 'de ain' gwine be no crussein'. Dat crussein's infum baptizzum, 'n 'de ain' no sech 'ting ez infum baptizzum.' 'De ain', sez I; 'how's the name o' Gord dat chile gwine to get named, den?' An M'r'lowe say, 'We jess gwine call him Moses right erlong. Dat bein's how he'd bin kinder drawed out'n de water by bein' kef' fun infum baptizzum, de preacher lowed he mus' be call Moses.' Well, suh, I jess pintered rah'd'n pitched. I sutney skeered M'r'lowe. I lowed dat boy wuz gwine to be named no sech 'ting; an' he ain', mun, he ain'. M'r'lowe, she call him Mose, jess fo' pure owdaciousness; but me an' de res' jess call him sonny. An' dat's huccome I don' jess 'zactly know his name."

At the termination of this remarkable narrative, the man stolidly awaited the usual string of expletives. But the Major stood silent, deep in meditation. A happy conceit had occurred to him and he was lost in admiration of its neatness and his cleverness.

"The boy's name shall be Mozart Mendelssohn," he said, with an unctuous relish of his own good thing: "Moz-art Mendels-sohn," he repeated, adapting the pronunciation to the slow mind of his hearer; "then Maria can keep on calling him Mose, and you can keep on calling him sonny, and by the Lord Harry! Adam himself couldn't do better than that."

So Mozart Mendelssohn it was; and if ever a small boy deserved a great name, this one did. Pitifully crippled and misshapen the little fellow was; but genius looked out of his dark, bright eyes, and spoke through his slender, ebony fingers. After a few preliminary trials, he could handle any instrument with a skill and expression rarely attained by months of practice; and, along this line, the limit of the Major's generosity was the limit of his purpose!

Seated on the wide stone step of the west veranda, while the Major rocked to and fro above him, with a mint julep or a toddy at his side, Mozart would fill the air with soothing melody, until his watchful eye took note that the last drop had disappeared down the Major's capacious throat. Then, and not till then, with clasped hands around his crooked knee, and eyes fixed firmly on the distant landscape, would Mozart say, "I b'lieve I eud play a fiddle."

"Well, blank my eyes!" the Major would roar, "a fiddle! and it's just like your durned impudence to think I ought to get you one. A fiddle! Get up off that rock and go to the kitchen before I break every bone in your body." And the Major would stalk in from mouth to brain, and waked his heart and fingers to a new, strange power!

It was only a second-rate violin, played by a hunch-back negro; but the scent of the harvest field blew over the hot, close room, and a stream plashed gently under bending trees. Only a second-rate violin, but its spell was mighty. Men saw afresh life's beauty and its gladness. Old dreams awakened, of fame and love, and hope began to sing of what might be. He was only a hunch-back negro, but men dropped their heads and forgot their glasses on the bar as they listened.

Within their hearts there stole sweet thoughts; within their eyes there crept hot tears; and no man smiled as the Major walked unsteadily down the room, until he stood before the player.

"Le's go home, Mozart," he cried, with trembling lips; "le's go home. We'll keep our Christmas there, please God! You and I—at home."

Out into the night, through a raging blizzard; buffeted by angry gusts of wind and volleys of snowflakes that obliterated the way; but the Major knew it not, until, at his feet, his companion stumbled and fell, exhausted with cold and weariness. But he knew it well, when, with Mozart in his arms, he plodded along over the road whose stretching white miles seemed endless to his tired feet. Dissipation had weakened the Major's frame, and Mozart's inert form was heavy, but still he walked, fighting against the fate that threatened them, until his eyes discovered, through the snow-blizzard, a well-known gate. And then he paused.

"We'll get a little rest here, Mozart," he said, with a thick and halting utterance; "we'll rest a bit, and then we'll go on; we'll both go in—we'll

GREAT RUSH

Large Advance Sale at the Kentucky for Viola Allen Today.

The Indications are for a Packed House
Thursday Evening.

People began to line up in front of The Kentucky at 7 o'clock this morning to get seats for Viola Allen, despite the fact that the box office didn't open until 9 o'clock. There was a rush when the doors were thrown open and it lasted for two hours or more.

The sale before noon amounted to over $1,000, the largest of the season for the first day, but there are many good seats left downstairs. The entire balcony was sold out before noon.

Manager English is being congratulated on securing such an attraction, and in having such a good sale for it.

SCHOOL BOARD.*PROPOSITION TO IMPROVE BUILDINGS TO COME UP TONIGHT.

The school board will meet tonight at the High school building in regular session.

After the regular routine work the building committee will ask for an appropriation with which schools may be beautified and the necessary repairs made the buildings and the fences.
Mr. Weille has fixed up the meeting room of the board and it is an excellent piece of work. Mr. Weille always takes an interest in everything he goes at and is one of the most active members of the school board in all departments of the work and especially in improvements.

The costs of repairs and other work about the buildings will amount to somewhere near $10,000.

The school board will discuss among other things the matter of three per cent of the school levy being diverted into the public library fund, which the court of appeals has just decided is unconstitutional.
The proper steps will likely be taken to secure the money for use in the schools.

LIVE BIRD MATCH.

This afternoon at the La Belle park gun club grounds Messrs. Henry Beyer, Moses Starr and Dr.
Hansbro are to have a live bird shoot for a $75 purse.

There were originally six entries, but three dropped out. The purse is made up of $25. Each man shoots at 25 live birds for his score, and the results of the match will be received with general interest.

La Belle Park Opened Last Night for the Summer.

Stock Company Greeted by an Appreciative Audience.

The La Belle Park Stock company opened the theater last night with "Esmeralda" to a fairly large audience.

The threatening weather doubtless kept many away.

The company is a strong one this year, but the play last night did not run as smoothly as it will tonight, as some of the company did not arrive until last Saturday, and had no time for rehearsal.

All promise to become favorites in Paducah.

Mr. Charles Middleton,

who was here last year, Mr. C. H.

Carlton, who played here several years ago, and Mr. Martin Beatty and his attractive wife received quite an ovation. Mrs. Beatty, whose stage name is Enola Mandeville, appearing in the title role.

Mr. Beatty's vocal specialties between the acts were warmly received and the applause accorded them shows that their friends wish them success.

Both are clever. All the company are good, and will give a smoother performance hereafter.

Before the performance in the theater at La Belle, Prof. H. S. Record made a thrilling ride from the top of a ladder onto the cycle whirl. It was his first performance of the feat.

He had ridden down the ladder before and around the whirl before, but never had he played the combination until last night, and he did it in a wind that was almost a gale, and against the wishes of the manager. It was a most daring feat, and won for him much deserved applause. It is something new in Paducah, and many people went out expressly to see it.

NEGRO MURDERED.*HIS BODY THEN PLACED ON THE RAILROAD TRACK.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 6—Daniel

Butler, a negro farm hand, was found dead near the Louisville and Nashville railroad track, one mile south of Pembroke. The body had been knocked from the track, but was not mutilated. Two bullet holes were found in the man's head, and the coroner's jury decided that he had been murdered and his body placed on the track. Claude Bradshaw, another nigro, who was drinking with him and was last seen with him the night before, is under arrest.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The gross earnings of forty-two roads for the third week of April were $7,663,850, against $6,838,741 for the third week of April, 1901, an increase of $825,136. Thirty-six roads show increases and six decreases. Since

July 1, the roads referred to above earned $19,559,609, an increase of $23,168,790 over the $296,390,819 reported, for the corresponding period last year. For the longer period thirty-eight show increases and four decreases.

THE LOUISVILLE FORMER BANKER WILL GET ANOTHER TRIAL.

Cincinnati, O., May 6—The United

States court of appeals today disposed

of the case of former banker J. M.

McKnight, of Louisville, who was president of the defunct German National bank of Louisville.

Judge Day announced the opinion

of the court, in which it is held that

the court had erred in compelling the defendant to testify against himself,

by holding the note and having been called by the prosecution to testify

concerning it. The judgment of the lower court was reversed, and the case remanded for another trial. This will make the fifth trial for McKnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rehkopf are expected tomorrow from Shreveport, La.,

where they have been visiting relatives.

THE END WAS SUDDEN

Owing to his successful administration of his diocese, Dr. Corrigan was selected to be coadjutor of Cardinal McCloskey. On October 1, 1880, he was raised to the arch-episcopal see of Petra, and made coadjutor with the right of succession.

THE MAYOR SAYS NO

And the Promoters of the Sparring Bout Say Yes.

There is Some Doubt About the Match Coming off Here Tonight.

Mayor Yeiser decided last night to prevent the sparring exhibition scheduled for tonight at the Kentucky theatre between Ryan and Pearce. He issued orders to Marshal Crow to see that the sparring exhibition does not take place.

The mayor claims that the state law prescribes that no prize fights shall be given in the state, nor shall they be given under any other name. He contends that the exhibition is a prize fight under some other name.

The promoters declare that it is simply a sparring exhibition, such as those given in Louisville regularly, and those in Louisville have been decided by the courts not to be prize fights within the meaning of the law.

The promoters say they have gone to great expense to give the exhibition, have no intention of violating the law and know their exhibition would not be violating it, and threaten trouble for any interference on part of the authorities.

Mayor Yeiser this afternoon at 3 o'clock, although considerable influence was brought to bear on him, still declared that he will not permit the bout to be pulled off. He said he had no ill feeling towards anyone, but would see that the scrap was prevented.

The promoters, on the other hand, say they will pull off the fight on time, and are talking of getting out an injunction against the city enjoining the authorities from stopping the exhibition. This seems to be the only way the fight can be pulled off.

MC KNIGHT CASE.*THE LOUISVILLE FORMER BANKER WILL GET ANOTHER TRIAL.

Cincinnati, O., May 6—The United

States court of appeals today disposed

of the case of former banker J. M.

McKnight, of Louisville, who was

president of the defunct German National bank of Louisville.

Judge Day announced the opinion

of the court, in which it is held that

the court had erred in compelling the

defendant to testify against himself,

by holding the note and having been

called by the prosecution to testify

concerning it. The judgment of the lower court was reversed, and the case remanded for another trial. This will make the fifth trial for McKnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rehkopf are expected tomorrow from Shreveport, La.,

where they have been visiting relatives.

THE SCHOOLS

Commencement Preparations are Now Being Made—Cards out.

The Eighth Grade Preparing to Give its Annual Entertainment.

The cards for the graduating class have been selected and will be here on June 1 for distribution.

The pupils will be allowed 900 cards, about 25 cards each, and the remaining 100 cards, 1,000 being ordered in all, will go to the faculty.
The cards will be engraved by the Mermad and Jacard Co., of St. Louis, and the front will be gotten up with the Paducah High school monogram in gold.
This piece of work will cost $10 alone and the remainder of the work on this page, the invitation, will be of the highest quality of engraving. There will be a double sheet inserted in the middle for the program, the names of the pupils and the names of the faculty.

This is considered one of the neatest cards ever gotten out and the pupils are proud of their selection.

There are 36 pupils in the class to date, which is one of the largest classes in the history of the local schools.

The Eighth grade at the High school building has about finished its program for the closing exercises.

The entertainment will be given in the auditorium of the High school on Friday the last day of school and nearly all the pupils are entered for a number on the program.

The work will be more original than heretofore and the entire programs will be different from any heretofore arranged. The attendance will be large and it is hoped one of the most successful undergraduate entertainments ever given.
